

Hello everyone, my name is Christopher Carroll, and I am a third-year student in St. Kevin's College. I am a writer, dinosaur enthusiast, and artist. In 2025, I am going with a group of students to South Africa, to volunteer for a charity called Zamda Ireland. They provide aid to children in the city of Kabwe, Zambia. They provide food, education, and shelter to disadvantaged children, and their vision is that these children will live self-sufficient, fulfilling lives. Many of the children that they help come from the streets of Kabwe and Lusaka; they have lost their parents to HIV/ AIDS, have been rejected by their families and are forced to steal or beg to get by.

I am helping to raise money by selling Christmas cards. There is an option of 10 designs, each made by hand and are full of colour. You can buy 1 card for €2, and a pack of cards (5 designs of your choice from the selection) for €5.00. You can buy as many as you like, any donation will help!!
